WEeping HILL

Selectmen declare emergency

Wilmington's Board of Selectmen, Monday night, declared an emergency, at the south end of Chestnut Street, with regard to the drainage problem.

They voted to proceed to get plans to do the necessary work in effecting drainage, and further voted their purpose was to recover the monies spent in a lawsuit against the Town of Burlington.

The motion was by Selectman George Boylen, after about an hour's conversation with five residents of the area, Walter and Ed Rooney, Daniel Devlin, Joseph Mantini and Frank Holland.

And, after a unanimous vote, someone added "do it before winter."

WEeping HILL NEIGHBORS: Told the Wilmington Selectmen of their woes, in the Town Hall, Monday night.
At left is Walter Rooney, who owns the private water works. Next is his brother Ed, then Frank Holland, Joseph Mantini and Daniel Devlin, all residents of Chestnut Street.

The board listened sympathetically to the five Chestnut Street residents, as they retold their story of the past ten weeks, many details of which have already been printed in this paper. They heard tales of flooded yards, of sewer systems with problems, and of mounting extra costs to the households of Chestnut Street.

There was a grin of appreciation at the story of Walter Rooney, who said he is getting 86,000 gallons of water a day - all the bacteria free. There was another grin when Walter's brother Ed declared that perhaps the best thing to do was to build a new road, from Hillside Way, and in effect forget the old Chestnut Street.

It was Selectman George Boylen who declared that there was an emergency situation, that there were health problems, and that the road itself was in danger of being wiped out.

Boylen declared that it would be necessary for the Town of Wilmington to sue the Town of Burlington, in order to establish legally the monies that

Wilmington must recover, because of the problems caused by the new Burlington reservoir. He ventured an opinion that "no 12 men in the United States" could do anything other than vote against the Town of Burlington "unless five of them happened to be Burlington Selectmen."

The Chestnut Street residents had some practical advice for the Selectmen.

Frank Holland, who has Weeping Hill in his backyard, offered the opinion that "maybe we can discover something" if the water level were allowed drop down half way.

Daniel J. Devlin told the Selectmen that Burlington does not need all that water now - that the reservoir has been planned on a ten year future need, with perhaps Burlington selling water to other towns. He added that there was imminent danger of having 100 yards of Chestnut Street "wiped out." At one point in Devlin's talk the Town Manager said he (Devlin) was describing the conditions exactly. Both Devlin and Holland seemed to agree that the thing to do was to get rid of some of the water in the reservoir.

Chairman Banda of the Wilmington Board was clearly unhappy about the engineering firm - Whitman & Howard - "we've been doing business with them in this town for many years - and if they don't come up with an answer damn soon!" Mr. Miceli said that Burlington's Selectmen felt that way too.

Ed Rooney told the Wilmington selectmen that Burlington is putting an amount of copper sulfate in the reservoir water, in an effort to trace the water flow.

While nothing was said of the cost to Wilmington of the emergency work, as a result of Weeping Hill, one source has guessed at not less than $40 thousand.

The Wilmington Finance Committee will have to vote on the project, and, with plans, surveys, etc. it could be a month before the Town Manager is ready to call for bids - if he chooses to do so.

Boylan has had a slow burn

Selectman George Boylen of Wilmington has had it, as far as the firm of Whitman & Howard, engineers, of Boston is concerned. He said so, in the Selectmen's meeting, Monday night.

Whitman & Howard is the firm that does most of the engineering in eastern Massachusetts municipalities, for water use planning and related subjects. To say that it has done millions of dollars in business in the area would probably be no exaggeration. At the present time the firm is engaged in a $250,000 program for the preparation of plans for extensions of sewers in Wilmington to the projected new high school in North Wilmington.

Boylan sat in the Selectmen's meeting Monday night, and listened as one after another the people of Chestnut told of their water problems stemming from the Burlington reservoir, and Weeping Hill. Finally he had had enough.

He was very cold about it. He named the firm. He told of the millions of dollars of business it has in the area, serving Wilmington, Woburn and Burlington, and how they are still getting money from the three municipalities.

Yet, Boylen said, not one word had come, over the past several months, to the Selectmen of Wilmington over the problems that had been caused by what seems to be a lack of engineering. He presumed that the city of Woburn was being similarly served.

Wilmington, and the residents of Wilmington, simply do not exist, in the minds of Whitman & Howard, Boylen charged. He, Boylen, had had all he wanted of that firm.

(Fred King, a vice president of the firm of Whitman & Howard told the Town Crier that "We have been serving the Town of Burlington, have conformed to their desires and requests, and have reported to them over this entire period, and are subject to their determination before we can act and speak. Ed.)

It's back to the 5th Middlesex

In early May, as a result of the State House senatorial redistricting, Wilmington was transferred from the Fifth Middlesex Senatorial District to the 3rd Essex and Middlesex, now the seat of Senator Bill Saltonstall (R).

As it is constituted in the present planning in the State House, the Fifth Middlesex Senatorial District will include Wards 1, 2, 3 & 7 of the City of Waltham, Precincts 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9 of the Town of Lexington and the towns of Bedford, Burlington, Carlisle, Chelmsford, Lincoln, and Wilmington, all in the County of Middlesex.

Rep. Fred F. Cain (D) of Wilmington Monday night told the Selectmen that Wilmington is again in the Fifth Middlesex District, represented by Senator Ronald MacKenzie (R).

He also concluded that Edison failed to meet its burden of proof in proposing to terminate the special rate to Boston Gas, and that that filing should be dismissed.

Judge Eisenberg also found that the quality of Edison's service to the all-requirements customers was at times less than satisfactory and at times inadequate, and that the customers' demand charges should be adjustable to reflect the quality of service.

In discussing the question of whether Edison's discriminatory treatment of the all-requirements municipal customers constituted anticompetitive conduct, he noted that the nature of the competition involved is of a plainly recognizable pattern. The municipalities are all surrounded by or adjacent to Edison's service area, and the ease with which Edison could take over service to them was demonstrated by its recent acquisition of the Boston Gas electric system, he said.

The survival of the municipal systems rests on the willingness of

A VICTORY FOR READING LIGHT FPC presiding judge rejects Boston Edison's rate filings as unjust

Federal Power Commission Presiding Administrative Law Judge Ernest O. Eisenberg in an initial decision on July 19th rejected a major portion of a $2.7 million annual wholesale electric rate filing by Boston Edison Company, of Boston, Mass., as excessive, unjustified and anticompetitive, and ordered refunds. The decision is subject to Federal Power Commission review.

The proceeding involves four separate filings or complaints consolidated for hearings which concluded in December of 1971. The major issue in the proceeding, the decision said, was Edison's proposed new rate applicable to its all-requirements wholesale customers - Boston Gas Company, New England Power Company, and the Massachusetts Towns of Concord, Norwood, Reading, Wakefield, and Wellesley. That new rate represented an annual increase of $2,733,000, or 15.7 percent. The FPC suspended that increase for one day, until May 1, 1970, when it went into effect subject to refund.

The other three filings in the proceeding were a complaint by the Towns of Reading and Wakefield with regard to Edison's service; a protest by Boston Gas Company of Edison's proposal to terminate a special rate to it and a complaint against Edison by Norwood Municipal Light Department asking for an investigation of Edison's jurisdictional rates, alleging they are unlawful and discriminatory.

Judge Eisenberg concluded that, on the basis of a hearing record which included more than 7,100 pages of transcript and 153 exhibits, Edison overstated its company-wide total cost of service and required return on its electric operations by $24,252,012; that its allocations of costs to its all-requirements wholesale for resale customers were disproportionately heavy; and that its rate increase to its all-requirements customers were excessive by amounts which approximate at least $1,240,000.

He also concluded that Edison failed to meet its burden of proof in proposing to terminate the special rate to Boston Gas, and that that filing should be dismissed.

Judge Eisenberg also found that the quality of Edison's service to the all-requirements customers was at times less than satisfactory and at times inadequate, and that the customers' demand charges should be adjustable to reflect the quality of service.

In discussing the question of whether Edison's discriminatory treatment of the all-requirements municipal customers constituted anticompetitive conduct, he noted that the nature of the competition involved is of a plainly recognizable pattern. The municipalities are all surrounded by or adjacent to Edison's service area, and the ease with which Edison could take over service to them was demonstrated by its recent acquisition of the Boston Gas electric system, he said.

The survival of the municipal systems rests on the willingness of ble, for them to supply power to their industrial customers at rates competitive with Edison's rate to its own direct industrial customers, the decision said.

Some of the industrial customers served by the municipalities are in fact so dissatisfied with the existing situation, the Judge pointed out, that they are considering moving or revising plans for further expansion. Thus, he said, "An erosion of consumer satisfaction in the municipal systems has thus begun, and in this sense it must be found that damage to the competitive standing of the municipalities already has been accomplished...."

Judge Eisenberg said the record established that Edison has sustained certain increases in its costs of service, which although not as large as it has claimed, nevertheless warrant an increase in its rates to its all-requirements wholesale for resale to customers. He therefore directed Edison to file revised rates which will cover its costs of service, and at the same time eliminate those pricing provisions and terms determined to be unduly discriminatory and anticompetitive. Edison is to make refunds of excess amounts collected since May of 1970, with 8 percent interest.

Parties to this proceeding have 30 days to file exceptions to today's decision. The Commission has another 10 days after that to initiate a review on its own Commission motion. In the event no exceptions are filed and no Commission review is initiated, the decision will become final at the end of that 40-day period.

150 youngsters meet Machiko Ellsworth

It was Origami and Kirigami, and the use of chopsticks, for 150 youngsters in the Wilmington Memorial Library, last Thursday.

Mrs. Machiko Ellsworth, born in Kiushu, Japan, and a very charming lady in her kimono and emerald green sash (obi) told the youngsters of her native country, and demonstrated how to fold paper into shapes, in the Japanese manner as well as the art of Kirigami, (paper cutting).

The lady seems to have been less than five feet tall. She was entirely in Japanese costume, wearing geta, instead of shoes, and the Japanese socks called tabi. She was the picture of perfect charm.

Her husband was the later Walter Ellsworth, a civilian fire chief for the U.S. Air Force, who had been stationed at Air Force bases in many parts of the world - Azores, Guam, Okinawa, Korea, and last, in Thailand.

The name Ellsworth, is of course, well known in Wilmington. The local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post is named for her father-in-law, the late Top Sergeant Walter Ellsworth, of World I, and her brother-in-law is a sergeant in the Wilmington Police.

Ma, incidentally, means beautiful, and the entire name, with the feminine diminutive ko at the end, means a beautiful and understanding female, which is not a bad description for one of Wilmington's newest residents.

Fournier has one step to go

Maurice Fournier of Fitz Terrace, Wilmington, has besides his property, a small bit of land owned by the Town. Once there was a boat house there. The town took the land a few years ago, for non payment of taxes.

In the special Town Meeting it was proposed to transfer the land to the Conservation Commission. Fournier, with the help of Patty Ward, succeeded in convincing the Town Meeting that it would be better not to do this.

Monday night Fournier appeared before the Selectmen, and convinced that board that the town should sell the land to him. The board will advertise the sale, soon.

Maurice has only one step to go now, to acquire the land. He has to also convince Harold Melzar, who also owns land abutting the small piece, and who has an equal opportunity to buy, if he so wishes.

WHAT THE POLICEWOMEN WILL BE WEARING: This fall, Pat Gately (left) and Peggy Perry, photographed last Thursday in the new style hats, to be worn by the Wilmington School Traffic guards.

"Just wait until you see the new jackets!" Pat enthused to the Town Crier.

The jackets are expected in time for the ladies to wear them.

Pat and Peggy say they chose the new uniforms, after a trip to a store in Nashua, New Hampshire, and further they say that the Town Manager is also as enthusiastic as they are about the new style.

The Cardinals came in at First Place

MEMBERS OF THE WILMINGTON CARDINALS: Photographed last Friday, prior to boarding a bus. They went to Burlington, Vermont, where they took first prize in the annual Burlington Parade, Saturday.

There were 126 members, and it took five buses to transport all of them and their band instruments.

A letter to the Woodsides

The decision of Melville and Lil Woodsides to close the Wilmington Center Pharmacy because of the recent episode met with a response in the Selectmen's meeting, Monday night. Selectmen Mike Cairra acted as the spokesman, in proposing that a letter be sent to the Woodsides expressing the appreciation of the selectmen for their community services, through the years, to the town, and their contributions to the community.

Permanent appointments were made to the Historical Commission. Walter Kohler of West Street was appointed for a one year term. Miss Hope Hathaway of Salem Street and Mrs. Evelyn Sheering of Gunderson Road for two year terms and Mrs. Shirley Callan of Woburn Street and William G. Meyer of Pilling Road for the three year terms.

A proposal to set a 5 foot 6 inch height requirement, for Wilmington policemen, by the Town Manager was voted down. The selectmen felt that physical qualifications and abilities were more important than height.

The appointment of Precinct Election Officers for Wilmington's six precincts was indefinitely postponed, on a motion from Mike Cairra that a more serious study be given to the request. The selectmen grinned, as they voted. They do not want precinct officers until it is absolutely necessary.

The Solas family, with a new home building on Aldrich Road, were given a permit to move 2000 yards of gravel from the old airport site, with Danny Gillis dissenting. Gillis said he didn't like the operator and owner at the old airport site because of previous difficulties with the town.

A hearing with an attorney with reference to betterments on Marcia Road was cancelled when the attorney failed to attend the meeting.

A permit to operate a Garage Sale - probably the first such permit in Wilmington, was given to Joseph Grinley of Middlesex Avenue, in North Wilmington. Mr. Grinley has had several garage sales this summer.

The permit stipulated that the sale was to be conducted on three days in October, including Columbus Day, and was to be the only permit for the year. The fee was set at $3.

The vote was three to two - Boylen and Cairra voting against. Permission was given to the Wilmington Community Fund to use Wilmington Common as the place to start and end a Community Fund Walkathon, on September 30th.

The selectmen got into a long discussion about Federal Funds and the MAPC (Metropolitan Advisory Planning), which passes on applications for Federal Funds. The discussion was started by Gillis, who thought, perhaps, that the Town Manager had not reported on his visit to Washington, D.C. last fall, and it was continued by Boylen, who argued that the MAPC should make listings of all funds available. Boylen must have talked at least ten minutes, on his point.

350,000 SQ. FT. WAREHOUSE PLANNED: The Board of Selectmen were told, Monday night, that Cressey, Decham & Co., of Salem are planning the erection of a warehouse in Wilmington in excess of 350,000 square feet. At left is Ray Fitzmaurice, of Fitzmaurice Construction, and at right is Rod Smith, of the food brokerage firm.

Selectman Cairra spoke on a new proposal for funding the MBTA, not well known to the Selectmen, in which 50% of the costs are to be taken over by the state. Cairra thought the bill was good, and said further that Mayor White in Boston is in favor of it. He had talked, he said, with Rep. Fred Cain on the subject, and thought the Selectmen should be recorded in favor. He wanted letters to Mr. Cain and to Senator MacKenzie. Miceli seconded and it was voted.

The selectmen received a report that the possible pollution of Lubbers Brook, etc., reported two weeks ago in the Town Crier, did not exist. Ernest Romano, sanitarian, had checked the water in several places and found no trace of pollution.

YOUR Pharmacist SPEAKS
by Louis

In 1947 the anesthetic property of chlorophorm was discovered. Since that time, many new anesthetics, both local and general, have been introduced.

The use of anesthetics has made possible the performance of many operations which otherwise could not have been undertaken.

Understandably, surgery advanced quickly during the twentieth century. All sorts of surgery are performed today which could not have been dreamed of in 1847.

Wilmington's TM Told to close out-door beer parlor

It has become almost a natural phenomenon in Massachusetts - the gathering of young people in the evening, using autos as transportation, in some spot to do some more or less serious beer drinking. Most of the time there is only beer involved. Some times there is hard liquor, or marijuana, or even heroin. Depending on the attitude of the young people the town fathers look at the assemblies in either a friendly or unfriendly fashion.

Quiet assemblies are ignored. Loud shouting is sometimes overlooked. Consistent noise, however, brings complaints, and complaints bring action.

Occasionally there are agreements, with some youngsters willing to sort of take charge of an area, and selectmen or others willing to let them try. Such an agreement was made a week ago by Selectmen of Bedford and some young people over there, according to a story in last week's Reading Chronicle. The youngsters will do their drinking in an abandoned gravel pit, and the Bedford authorities won't bother them.

Wilmington has several areas where such drinking goes on. The old Silver Lake railroad station area is one. Occasionally there are complaints about the drinking going on in the town beach areas, along Grove Avenue. Down on Main Street the Town Park area is another place. Last year there were reports that North Woburn drug users were "pushing" heroin there. Two Wilmington Policemen moved in and stopped that activity. The latest on that was that the pushers went on to some place in Tewksbury.

The North Wilmington parking lot was a place where beer drinkers, of both sexes, used to congregate in large numbers.

Things got out of hand a couple of years ago, and the town fathers had a crackdown on the part of the local police.

Then a small group approached the selectmen, and said that they would try to do some self-policing, and the selectmen said in effect, go ahead. It worked, for a few weeks. Other groups began to move in.

By last summer the North Wilmington parking lot had become a nightly congregation of loud and boisterous individuals, some of whom seemed to think that they really could sing bass. The complaints began to flow.

Just about the time that action was due the North Wilmington crowd split up. Half of them, or more, went into a hide-away, up in the woods. Those who remained quieted down.

The crowd that was in the woods was no secret. A lot of people knew of the place. Some people were amused, some were otherwise. Basically speaking the young people were from the neighborhood, the Shady Lane Drive area of Wilmington. They did their drinking - the beer cans could be counted in the thousands, but they were relatively quiet. The "out-door parlor" was halfway between Middlesex Avenue and Salem Street, off the Boston & Maine railroad bed.

BEER CANS: in the "out-door beer parlor," off the railroad tracks in North Wilmington.

In the past weeks there have been changes. Instead of being hidden discretely in the woods, carloads of youngsters have been parked along the B & M right-of-way. The noise factor has increased to a considerable degree.

Perhaps these are new comers - not the original Shady Lane group. There were complaints to the Selectmen, by people who live in the Shady Lane area.

Monday night the Board of Selectmen gave instructions to the Town Manager to close down the place. That should be the end of the story - but maybe it is only the beginning.

1. The railroad right-of-way is private property, and there are no No Trespassing signs. That complicates matters. How can the Town Manager tell the police department to prevent trespassing in a place where there are no signs - and where apparently the B & M doesn't care if there is trespassing?

2. The property where the "out-of-doors beer parlor" is happens also to be private property, and again there are no No Trespassing signs.

3. Suppose a couple of patrolmen could go up in a police cruiser and chase the kids out. Then, when the cruiser has left, the kids would probably return. It would be something like trying to chase away the waves, at the beach, unless there was an all-night watch, by the cops.

Anyway, it sounds as though there might be some good sport, up off the old railroad tracks. If anyone wants to watch, just glance northerly from Middlesex Avenue in North Wilmington or southerly from Salem Street, any night, and more particularly on Friday or Saturday.

My Dad

He's the sunshine of happiness
an ocean filled of love
He's the precious gift I own against all, he stands above

He's the garden of everlasting pleasure with a shoulder to cry on too and whenever I am alone in this world
I just whisper,
Daddy, I love you!

Exceptional Children Program

IT WAS SLEEP-OUT NITE: For the boys in the Exceptional Children Program, last night, at the Livingston Street playground in Tewksbury. The night before had been shared by the girls in the program. The program (Camp Po-Ho-La) is a summer day camp, for six weeks each summer operated by the Tewksbury Recreation Commission.

A GAVEL TO BEAT ALL GAVELS: Tewksbury Rotary Club president Lew Tremblay happens to have of this time three gavels, with which to conduct the meetings.

It wasn't always so. A couple of weeks ago he had none. They were lost, strayed, or else had been picked up by some roving lion. Retorian Alden Peavey took pity on Lew and made him a gavel, with a Scotchman's handle. It was accepted with pleasure - and then the other gavels returned home.

SATURDAY SMASH-UP

Gabriel Teixeira, 53, of 94 Aldrich Road, Wilmington and Frank Mango, Jr., 40, of North Reading literally ran into each other on Boutwell Street, Wilmington Saturday.

They were both trying to pass a truck parked near the intersection of Burlington Ave. But as they were passing at the same time, there wasn't enough room. CRASH. Neither driver was injured.

Wilmington Grange outing

The Wilmington Grange annual outing is planned for August 8th, a Wednesday.

Everyone is to meet at the Wilmington Plaza, near Grants at 6:30 p.m., where there will be a bus. An evening of fun is planned for members and guests.

Perhaps the Burlington Water Rate Makes Sense

A statement was made, in a discussion in Wilmington two weeks ago, to the effect that Wilmington and Tewksbury have the highest water rates in the state - except that North Reading was still higher.

That raises a question - What are the rates?

Water rates are difficult to compare. Tewksbury, for instance, sells water by the gallon, and Wilmington by the cubic foot. One cubic foot is equal to 7.481 gallons, if anyone wants to know.

Tewksbury sells the first 48,000 gallons or less, for $48 a year. The second charge is for 52,000 gallons, at 50¢ per 1000 gallons. In other words $1 buys 1000 gallons, for the first $48, and then 1000 gallons costs a slight bit under 50¢. When the user is over 100,000 gallons the rate becomes 35¢ per 1000.

Wilmington has a more complicated schedule. Also it sells in cubic feet. The first 1500 cubic feet is at 50¢ per hundred, or $7.50 a quarter. That's a cheaper rate - it works out at 149¢ gallons for a dollar, at the highest point.

Never mind who made that statement - it really doesn't matter. The point is that in a simple quick analysis the people of Tewksbury pay more than do the people in Wilmington.

In both cases there is a descending rate, depending on use of water. In Wilmington, when an industry, for instance, has over 15,000 cubic feet usage in a quarter the rate for 149¢ gallons is 38 cents. The price for the same amount of water, at its lowest rate, in Tewksbury, is 52¢.

Wilmington's water rate is going to be changed - to be increased. The Water Commissioners don't know the amount of change yet, but it will come.

Wilmington does have a sliding scale, which has been under attack by various interested persons, including one selectman.

The Town Manager has let it be known that he intends to preserve such a sliding scale, even if there are increases in the rate.

The editor of this paper feels that the thing to do is not to increase the rate for homes as much as should be done for business and industry.

The water rate in Burlington is of interest, in this regard. Burlington has no difference between the rates charged to home owners and the rates charged to commerce and industry.

The Burlington charge is 50¢ per 1000 gallons, with a minimum quarterly charge of $6.25 (12,500 gallons).

In other words in Burlington the charge to home owners is about half of what it is in Tewksbury and two thirds of what the rate is to home owners in Wilmington. And there are no changing prices.

The industrial and commercial rate is higher than in Wilmington. Interestingly enough, this column has been told that there are no commercial/industrial users who are unhappy about the rates.

At the lowest rate, in Tewksbury the charge is 35¢ for 1000 gallons. In Burlington there is no change - the price is 50¢ per 100 gallons. In Wilmington the charge is about 12¢ per 1000 gallons.

Perhaps there is a little common sense in the Burlington water rate. The Department of Public Works, it seems, does not have to permanently keep its hat in its hand, to get money for needed improvements.

Special for Walter Rooney of Chestnut Street (From the Town of Burlington via the Town Crier)

Dear Walter:

You have testified that you are getting 86,000 gallons of water a day, from the Burlington reservoir.

At the current rate charged to water users in Burlington this comes to $43 a day.

In case you find it too difficult to send this money to Burlington you may use the Town Crier office.

Failure to do so will mean that the Town of Burlington will have to cut off your water supply.

The Gnome of Wilmington

There was a seamen's joke, years ago, about jacking up the whistle and putting a new ship under it - this in the days of the 1933 depression when no money was being spent on new ships.

The Wilmington Town Hall is getting a similar treatment.

Thirty years ago there was nothing in that town hall basement but a pistol range, for the use of the police department. There was a heavy piece of iron which deflected the bullets downward into the sand. Presumably those clerks who were upstairs could not hear the pistol firing, or it was done at night.

Twenty years ago new Town Managers began to change things. The pistol range was taken out. A partial cement floor was installed, and some rooms. More cement floor was installed. More rooms.

The result was workspace. It was also a hodgepodge.

For the past twenty years the Town Accountant has been the Gnome of Wilmington, more lately joined by other town employees.

Now the present Town Manager is changing things around. The Town Accountant and other employees have been moved out of the Town Hall, to temporary quarters elsewhere.

Last week a construction crew began to tear things apart. If the Town Hall manages to hold together, there might be more space, down below, than there used to be.

THE BROKEN CONCRETE FLOOR: Comes out of the Wilmington Town Hall, to be hauled away, last Saturday.

One sentence in a story on the Tewksbury tax rate provided the expert advice "most persons who own $30,000 homes, for instance, will receive tax bills if the assessors' estimate proves true." Everyone knew that. Missing from that sentence through a typographical error, however, was that such persons will receive tax bills "of $1,050" if the $35 tax rate estimate is right.

Ready Cash.

How to make sure you'll always have enough.

You never know when you're going to need extra cash. That's why right now is a good time to see your Middlesex Bank money manager.

He can open up a Line of Credit for you in just a few minutes. For any amount you both agree on, up to $5000. Then, whenever you need cash—today, tomorrow, a year from now—just write yourself a check for what you need.

Once you have your Middlesex Line of Credit, there are no more loan applications to fill out. No more trips to the bank. Just plenty of ready cash. And if you don't use the service, it doesn't cost a penny.

See Joe Maffeo at our Wilmington office and get ready for tomorrow by opening a Middlesex Line of Credit today.

FIRE GUTS APARTMENT

Two Tewksbury firefighters suffered minor injuries fighting flames that gutted an apartment at 209 Salem Rd. Monday.

The blaze in the apartment occupied by Mrs. Gertrude Tedder was quickly extinguished by engines 1, 2 and 6 after it was reported at 3:17 p.m. Herbert Parker owns the structure.

FF Merrill Marshall required six stitches for a laceration he suffered on his left arm while battling the blaze, and FF Lawrence Driscoll had to be treated for a burn he suffered on a finger. Both were treated and released at St. John's Hospital in Lowell.

The fire reportedly began when Mrs. Tedder dropped an oil lamp she was trying to light.

Troop 136 heads for Pennsylvania

Approximately 15 members of Boy Scout Troop 136, Wilmington, sponsored by American Legion Post 136 will leave on July 31st for Moraine State Park, Pennsylvania where they will attend the National Scout Jamboree.

The boys will be accompanied on their trip by Scoutmaster Tom McFeeley of Burnap St., who has purchased a school bus for the special accommodation of his Scouts.

Members of Troop 136 will make an overnight stop in Clairfield, Penn and expect to arrive at the Jamboree on August 1st. On their return trip they will visit Scranton and will stop outside Cooperstown, New York and camp on the Oneta Lake. From there it's home to Wilmington.

More than 70,000 Scouts and leaders are expected at the jamboree. This is the first that a national jamboree has been held in two locations, and for the first time, any registered Scout may attend, there are no age or advancement requirements.

SELECTMEN SEEK SEVEN NEW EMPLOYEES

The Tewksbury selectmen have advertised they are seeking six new patrolmen for the town police department, and a part-time dog officer to enter the town when regular dog officer Robert Ryan is off duty.

The board has also advertised it plans to promote one of the town's present patrolmen to sergeant, and is seeking applicants. In the near future they will also have to appoint another patrolman to replace a man scheduled to retire immediately.

New appointments would increase the police force by more than 25 percent, giving the board more responsibility for assigning new jobs than any in recent history.

Both young men are members of the Tewksbury unit of the CAP, and both were promoted to their present rank last May. Martell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Martell Jr. of 26 Clark Street, Wilmington.

The CAP Cadets have youths from foreign countries visiting the United States while they are abroad, on an exchange program. The program is called IACE - International Air Cadet Exchange.

Martell and Noonan both went to Washington D.C. before leaving for Europe.

Martell is spending his three weeks in Portugal, and Noonan is spending his time in Germany.

TMHS GRADUATES GAIN MORE EDUCATION

Tewksbury Memorial High School graduates are increasingly seeking further education, according to the school department.

Students who were 1973 graduates included 235 who planned to continue their education, according to a recent estimate.

Four-year colleges have attracted 170, and those with two-year programs have attracted 48. Remaining students will pursue further education in business and technical schools.

They will go as far away as Texas A & M for further education.

SCHOOL BOARD APPOINTS NEW STAFF

The Tewksbury school committee has voted 3 - 2 to appoint two men as the schools' new health coordinator and maximum education coordinator.

Sal L. Gallo of Sodus, N.Y., was appointed health coordinator. He has taught in this state, Vermont and New Hampshire, and worked three years as a health coordinator in New York. He will earn $19,018 in the post.

Tewksbury Memorial High School teacher Jane Roach was appointed as the maximum education coordinator for the high school's continuous day.

Committeemen Edward L. Irwin and James E. Sullivan opposed both appointments. Following the 3 - 2 votes, the committee voted unanimously to appoint Gallo. Irwin refused to join a unanimous vote then for Roach. He backed TMHS athletic coach Michael Daley for the position.

In other action, the board accepted specifications for a new administrative assistant to Supt.

John N. Wynn. Appointment of a new chairman for the foreign language department was tabled.

The committee voted to write a letter of apology to a family whose daughter wasn't listed as being graduated from TMHS this year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Squires of 987 South St., backed by 10 other residents, complained about an administrative error that kept their daughter Susan from the list of graduates.

The vote to apologize to the Squires came after an hour long executive session attended by the Squires and TMHS principal Lawrence McGowan, who the family alleged was responsible for the error. Susan Squires was in the top half of her class.

TEWKSBURY FIREFIGHTERS LOSE SOFTBALL SEMIFINALS

Do you know that at sixty miles per hour, you must be able to see approaching danger three hundred and sixty-six feet away in order to stop in time? Three hundred and sixty-six feet is equivalent to twenty-one car lengths.

So you can see how necessary it is to remain alert when driving at high rates of speed. Even at twenty miles per hour you must spot danger three car lengths away in order to stop in time.

Never travel faster than is safe for a particular road or street, and always be alert and cautious.

And when you think of cars, always think first of Wilmington Ford, 275 Main St., Route 38, Wilmington, 658-6800. Wilmington is out of LL Playoffs

Last Saturday afternoon amidst the showers, the All-Stars powered their way to a 7-3 triumph over Winchester National in an opening round contest. Don McLaughlin belted a pair of round trippers, while Chris Nolan chipped in with a solo blast to lead the Wilmington attack. Steve Foley struck out nine in a superb route going mound performance to pick up the win.

In Tuesday's loss to Woburn, Billy Liston hurled a very gutsy game, but an unearned run led to his downfall. Steve Woods paced the offensive attack with some excellent base running in key situations. "A truly team effort in both contests pleased the coaching staff," stated Manager Rico Enos after the loss.

THE WILMINGTON LITTLE LEAGUE: Tournament team was defeated Tuesday evening by Woburn East, 4-3, and is thus out of the LL Playoffs. Above is a picture of Bill Liston, in the pitcher's box. Below Jim Uirwsky crosses the plate for the third and tying run in the fourth. Woburn scored one run later, which ended the series for Wilmington.

NORTHEAST BASEBALL LEAGUE

Thur. July 19th...Dracut jumped out to an early 7-0 lead and went on to rout the Recs, 12-0 behind the four hit pitching of Brian Sullivan. Jack Gearty (1-2) lasted only 2/3 of an inning, while Ray Falwell and Mike Sugrue mopped up. The four Wilmington singles came off the bats of Bob Cheney, Rick howlett, Brian Phillips and Gearty.

Dracut 721 20x-12

Fri. July 20th...Lowell maintained their hold on first place with a 5-0 triumph over the Recs, extending the Wilmington scoreless innings to 18. Barry Foster (1-5) lost his third straight, while the team suffered its seventh seasonal set back.

Recs 000 000 0-0
Lowell 000 500 x-5

Mon. July 23rd...The Recs finally got on the scoreboard, but it was too late as Lowell was leading 13-0 at the time. The scoreless drought reached 24 innings before Wilmington tallied three runs in the bottom of the seventh. Jack Gearty (1-3) took the loss allowing nine runs in 3 2/3 innings, while Brian Phillips finished up with his initial mound appearance of the summer.

SUBURBAN PONY LEAGUE

Sun. July 22nd...In an opening round playoff contest the Wildcats committed four costly errors in losing to the third place Red Sox. Dan Burns led the Wilmington attack with four hits, while Dan Hurley, Bill Blaisdell and Ray Gaud chipped in with singles. Bob Aprile pitched the complete game allowing 11 hits and walking six, while striking out five.

Red Sox 211 020 0-6
Wildcats 020 002 0-4

SENIORS LOSE TOURNAMENT OPENER

The Wilmington Senior All-Stars played Arlington even through four innings, and then the roof fell in and the boys lost their initial tourney bid, 8-0. Mike Barcellos hurled no-hit ball for 4 1/3 innings before giving up seven runs and five hits in 12 2/3 frames. Bill Aalerud finished up, allowing one run and a hit in his one inning stint. Chris DiCecca, Rich Medeiros and Dan Spear got a hit each as the Arlington hurler kept everybody else off the board.

SOFTBALL

W.R.S.L. DAY BY DAY

Tuesday, July 17th: Bob Coleman blooped a single to left field to score Wally Sloper and break a 7-7 tie in the last half of the seventh inning, as Polychemical edged Compugraphic, 8-7. Polychemical held a 6-4 lead going into the seventh frame, but Compugraphic was fortunate enough to pick up three runs and take a 7-6 edge. Although CG did notch three runs, "hot dog" baserunning cost them the game! With a man on second base, a ball was hit to shallow right field, and the runner on second faked he was going to third. Well the only one he fooled was the man who hit the ball and they both ended up on second base; this in turn resulted in the third out. Losing pitcher Willy Whalen allowed 15 hits to Polychemical, while Paul Burke scattered only eight safeties in hurling the win...A few players on the Jim Miceli Club felt that with a 9-3 lead "bush league plays" would help them win the game. Miceli did win the game by a score of 11-7, but before this game, I thought that the WRSL was a Recreation League. Bob MacKenzie doubled with men on first and second in the fourth inning to score Ken Sachione with what proved to be the game winning run. Ollie Olson hurled the win, and Dave Newhouse was the loser.

Wed. July 18th: After four scoreless innings in a game between first place Sweetheart and last place Tabby, Sweetheart exploded for five runs. At the end of the fourth frame, the Chelmsford Recs Girls Softball Team took their search on the Sweetheart side of the field. Almost like a magic spell had been cast upon them, Sweetheart chalked up five runs on five hits, two triples and three singles. Stan Sheltz tripled to left field to drive in two runs, one of which proved to be the game winner. Sweetheart picked up two runs in each of the last two innings to take a 9-0 lead going into the last of the seventh. Nugent drove in Tabby's lone run in the seventh to spoil winning hurler Paul Currier's shutout. John Loder pitched the full seven innings in recording the loss.

Thurs. July 19th: Tabby pulled off their second victory of the season as they rallied for six hits and eleven runs in the sixth inning to beat Polychemical, 13-4. Polychemical had a 4-2 edge going into the sixth and could not hold onto it. Losing hurler Paul Burke gave up only eight hits, combined with five Poly errors, was all Tabby needed. In the sixth, Dana LaFlam cracked a bases loaded triple to center field to score Carter, Palino and Lethan and the game winning run. At the tail end of the rally, Ed Palino wached an in the park round tripper to right field to score Bob Henderson, and Mike Carter. John Loder scattered seven hits, on a two-run tater to Wally Sloper in picking up the win...In the nightcap, Mapa could only produce eight players and thus yielded the game to McNamara Tire, 1-0.

Fri. July 20th: It happened!!! After being rained out three times, cellar dwelling Tabby Cat Food and Napa had a chance to bring forces together and do battle in a softball game. All they needed was a few players for the encounter. So Tabby will not play Napa until next year, because the game was scored No Contest...Miceli continued on their winning ways as they massacred a falling-apart Polychemical, 31-7. Miceli wacked three homers, three triples, three doubles, and 16 base hits for a total of 25 hits off of losing pitcher Paul Burke. Joe Carvahlo hit a sharp grounder to shortstop and the throw to first was dropped. During all this Steve Shepperson scored what to be the winning run. Ollie Olson gave up 12 hits enroute to his hurling victory.

Sun. July 22nd: Rick Froton set an all-time record by hitting four homers and driving in nine runs as Miceli slaughtered McNamara

WILMINGTON CLUBS ADVANCE IN

Semi-Fast Pitch Tourney

Silver Lake Pharmacy, Brewsters and Miceli Club of the Wilmington Softball League along with Teddy's Bears, Warriors and the Arrows of the Tewksbury League advanced into second round competition of the North East Area Semi-Fast Pitch Qualifying Tournament last weekend.

On Friday night Avco topped Shea's Reps, 8-3; the Lowell Elks outslugged Lynch's of Tewksbury, 14-8 and Care Cleaners of Chelmsford ripped Soderholm Construction of Wilmington, 11-5. Saturday the action continued with five games. Jack & Jill of Lowell came from behind to edge Avco, 10-9; Teddy's of Tewksbury belted Nicholl's of Dracut, 10-5 behind the hitting of Doug Beecy and Gene Manley. In the third game of the afternoon session, Northeast Sports of Chelmsford topped Pierce Ford of Lowell, 6-1. In the night twin-bill, Madison Pools of Lowell defeated Antonelli's of Tewksbury, 13-5 and Brewsters edged Ronnie's Garage of Chelmsford, 8-6. The Miceli-NE Nuclear game was postponed to Sunday morning because of a power failure at the Nuclear plant

DAVE RUMSON: Of Silver Lake Pharmacy delivers another pitch enroute to his shut-out win last weekend.

Tire, 19-6. Roy MacKenzie doubled to right field to score Jim Cushing from first base with the game winning run. This upped Miceli's current skein to three in a row, as this time the Miceli Club clouted 19 hits. Ollie Olson pitched six innings to earn his third straight win, and Jim Kennedy came in or relief for Ralph DeLisle to take the loss...In the second game of the evening, Soderholm beat Napa in a five inning game, 13-3. In the last of the fifth, Gerry McPhee came in on relief for starter Jim Murray and struck out the side. On the third wiffe, the batter threw the bat at the backstop, which constitutes immediate removal from the game, and because Napa had only nine players at the game, it was all over. Dennis Caullier scored what proved to be the winning run in the first on losing pitcher Ralph Casteel's wild pitch...In the nightcap, neither Tabby nor Brewsters could conquer up nine players, and the game was a No Contest!

Mon. July 23rd: Smithcraft fought off a 4-0 first inning lead to come back and beat Compugraphic, 10-5. Winning hurler Paul O'Donnell spun a neat four hitter to CG, and one hit and four errors in the first by Smith game Compugraphic the 4-0 lead. Smithcraft picked up three runs in the third on four singles. In the fifth inning, Jack Gillis hit a sacrifice fly to right to score John McCormick with the game winning run. Art Chagnon allowed 12 hits and took the hurling loss...In the nightcap, K of C wacked 18 hits to completely overpower Tabby, 14-11. The Knights jumped out to an 8-0 lead, but could not hold onto it and the score was brought back to 11-9. The Local Lodge team notched three runs in the top of the seventh to take a 14-9 edge, and then only allowed two runs to Tabby to win. McCabe tripled in the fifth inning to score Bruce Murphy with the game winning run. Don White allowed 12 hits enroute to the win. John Loder took the loss.

If you are buying tools, even if approach is to buy the best you can find.

A good tool will last a long time,

It is worth the extra money for the purchase.

Ask your dealer. He always

HERE THEY ARE: THE WINNERS!

Will Doherty is a lucky man. He's riding around right now on a brand new Honda that he won at Nault's. It was free. Will was the grand prize winner at Nault's Grand Opening Celebration.

And what a way to celebrate! People from all over the area were coming in to see our cycles and leathers. Tom McWudle of Woburn even rode in on a 1934 Harley 80' flathead. And picked up a gift certificate for his effort.

So you think Nault's is intended only for young people, huh? Nault's manager John Paresi handed a gift certificate to Andrew Lidstone of Stoneham for riding in. Andy's 69 years young.

And then there were two men from California who rode in. (They were probably so excited about Nault's Grand Opening that they rode across the country to be here and celebrate with us.)

But if you didn't win one of our prizes, don't feel bad. Everybody's a winner when they stop in at Nault's. Whatever kind of cycle you've got your eye on, we've got it. You can't lose at Nault's.

Federal funds allocated for purchase of B & M Line

Federal funds have been allocated towards the purchase by the MBTA of the so-called Main branch of the Boston & Maine RR., now unused except for occasional freights in North Wilmington. It is being used by the MBTA for passenger cars as far as Reading.

The Mass Urban Transportation Administration has approved the sum of $13.1 millions to help the MBTA extend its lines to Wilmington Junction, in North Wilmington, according to a story in the Reading Chronicle. The Wall Street Journal, in reporting the same approval, said only that the money was to assist in the purchase of the 16.9 mile roadbed.

Included in the Chronicle story was that 15 parcels of land are also to be acquired with the money, in Malden, for the construction of a Malden station. The construction will mean the relocation of 39 households and 45 businesses. The MBTA purchase will not mean any immediate readjustment of B & M commuter service, the Chronicle stated, but eventually there will probably be a terminal somewhere in the Reading-Wilmington area. State officials, the paper said, have begun a feasibility study of a commuter parking lot, near Route 93 at the Reading - Wilmington line, with the theory that north-of-Reading commuters could be served at such a lot, rather than parking all day at the Reading depot.

Ipswich River study workshop August 2nd at Gordon College

Water and related land issues in the Ipswich River Basin and North Shore coastal area will be the topic of a public workshop on August 2, 7:30 p.m., at the Gordon College Lane Student Center in Wenham. The workshop is one of a series sponsored by the Southeastern New England Study (SENE) of the New England River Basins Commission.

SENE is a jointly funded state-federal program designed to coordinate water and related land information from regional, state, and federal governmental agencies. Their job is to make this information available to communities and accessible to residents in each of the river basins in southeastern New England.

Issues to be discussed at the workshop will include alternatives for supplying future water needs, reaching and maintaining desirable water quality, and using land in a manner which will adequately protect wetlands and natural water storage areas as well as provide spaces for development and growth.

Such issues will become more critical as population in the Ipswich basin increases. Wise location of new growth will be a critical factor in ensuring the availability of water and related land resources in the future. This wise use of land will depend upon the willingness of people within the basin to cooperate across their town boundaries.

The workshop will include brief slide talk introductions by SENE Study Manager Bob Kasvinsky and Citizen Participation Coordinator Bill Richardson. The meeting is to be divided into land use, water use, and related land use work groups. Participants in the work groups will have an opportunity to review maps for accuracy and make their decisions regarding resource alternatives developed thus far by the SENE study team. Federal agency representatives working with Sene will be on hand to help answer questions.
